CONNECTICUT TOWNS AND COUNTIES

Counties of Connecticut

The State of Connecticut is divided into eight counties, 169 cities or towns, and 131 probate districts. Of these divisions, the cities or towns and the probate districts are the most important in terms of records of use to the genealogist.

CONNECTICUT VITAL RECORDS:

Depending on the date of the record, the researcher should check in several places.

- A. Since 1 July 1897 -- State Department of Health, Vital Statistics Section, 79 Elm St, Hartford 06115. These records are only available to members of legally incorporated genealogical societies.
- B. Before 1 July 1897 -- records are found in individual towns; be aware, however, that many towns formed part of another, so the researcher should check adjoining towns also.
- C. The Connecticut State Library, 231 Capitol Ave, Hartford 06115, has the Barbour Collection of Vital Records, which covers all vital records up to 1850.

CONNECTICUT LAND RECORDS:

These are handled by the individual towns.

CONNECTICUT PROBATE RECORDS:

These are handled by Probate Districts. These districts comprise one or more towns, and are listed after the individual town listings. Again, be aware that probate districts were formed from others.

In the material which follows, the researcher will find:

- A. TOWNS AND CITIES. Listings include most of the following:

1. Name of town or city.
2. Date of incorporation.
3. Town(s) from which it was taken.
4. Town(s) which were separated from it.
5. Former or ancient names for the town.
6. Local names -- railroad stations, post offices, villages.
7. County in which the town is located.
8. Probate District in which the town is located.

B. CONNECTICUT PROBATE DISTRICTS. More detail on these listings appears at the head of the Probate District section.

C. INDEX to all place names in the Town/City section.

CONNECTICUT PROBATE DISTRICTS

In Connecticut, probate records are handled somewhat differently than they are in other New England states. The Probate District, consisting of one or more towns, handles all probate-type records, and not the county, as is the case in most other states.

Below the reader will find the following information:

1. The name of the probate district.
2. The date of establishment of the probate district.
3. The parent probate district(s).
4. The names of the towns and cities included in the probate district.

For example, the entry "ANDOVER 1851 Hebron Andover, Bolton, Columbia" would be read "ANDOVER Probate District, established 1851, previously part of Hebron Probate District, includes the towns of Andover, Bolton, and Columbia." For probate records of the town of Andover before 1851, the researcher should contact the Hebron Probate District.
